This may sound cliché,
But listen to what I have to say,
A new school year is brought upon you,
And to finish it, you’d have to go through,
Don’t get grumpy and start studying,
This is your chance to keep trying,
Every year you get to fix your mistakes,
Every year, you’d know this time what it takes,
So switch your motivation on,
And in class, don’t ever yawn,
Cause when you’re in your final year,
You’ll cherish many moments before they disappear,
Keep your spirit soaring,
And your success will be roaring,
Keep your smile on your face,
In it, your friends will find grace,
Don’t let negativity get you ever,
Trust me when I tell you, you’re more than clever.
